Alky's Run

Number 657

Recovery Run? of 13th November 2000

Hare Alky

With Visitors outnumbering the local Runners in the early hours i.e. about 6:00pm, we were quite relieved when those from Coffs Harbour arrived, most with street directories still evident, at Alky's Sawtell venue. Only trouble was that Alky was nowhere to be found, so a Visiting Proxy Hare gave wonderful instructions about paper & chalk, most of which was ill-founded. We took off through the soaked scrub towards the fish cleaning area, took a deep breath & proceeded to the Headland where the trail lead to the Beach. Given that the wind was blowing about gale-force, & that it is friggin' hard to set chalk on submersed sand, we took off north, forever looking for clues as to when Alky had left the beach. By the time we got to Boambee Headland the pack had disintegrated to 4 blokes & 1 non-bloke, whereas the other odd dozen had headed back to shelter, where Alky had been for some bleedin' time, as the run had in fact returned to Home almost as soon as it had started. Nevertheless, the aforementioned pack of 5 continued On-Up to the water towers that Handler had included in her run the week before, & on-down through the mulga to First Ave & the ON-Home in Boro-nia St. Alky excelled with hot-doggies & salad & sauces, followed up with Cream Poof's sweet delights.

Special Points:

The thong wearing, stubbie slurping, loud burping Aussie Bloke is apparently becoming a fading bad memory as the modern Aussie male is getting closer to fulfilling modern womens expectations, according to a recent Newspann survey.

Obviously THEY didn't go to our 13th Invitation Run...
