Luckless' Run

Number 661

Luckless got Lucky..... of 11th December 2000

Hare Luckless

Because after setting the Run, & explaining that she was tired, (read rooted) Luckless didn't get a Down for staying at the Bucket, and not running with the Hash pack. A fair trail of paper was found leading on-up over the Sawtell wattertank Headland, which just plain disappeared when we got down to the Beach. Past the Surf Club we found wishy washy chalk marks, obviously applied by a non-bloke, leading beyond the Pub towards 8th Ave. Next the Pack divided with some pre-ferring to play trains & run along the rail line, while others were more pedestrian & followed 16th Ave, where the Trail was quite indistinctly marked. Pharlap was noted not seeing All-Checks as the Downs will show, & an attempt to get Pharlap to follow a false trail instigated by Pinnies was not as successful as Warrens earlier dash across the rail bridge where no chalk lay at all. So like a famished race horse chasing after freshly plucked carrots, the Pack headed back to Boambee Reserve for a cooling swim followed by juicy steaks c/- Luckless. This week we got extra fresh Creamy cakes too. Thank you for reading Quickie's Hash Trash for the past two years. Rip into Sticky for being silly enough to take it on on-on-&-on & Merry Christmas & happy New Year Hashers. A late Christmas gift thought: Police seized bottles of "Chanel No.5" eau de toilet at a London market which had been diluted. Urine is the same colour as most brands of perfume, is mildly astringent & a little scent can go a long way. ON-ON

Special Points:

Had your IQ tested lately?? A recent study of 2000 non-Hashers in Japan has revealed that moderate drinkers have a higher IQ than teetotalers. The type of alcohol did not affect the results ..... On-On !!!
