

BRONCO'S RUN 6/12/21

19 or maybe 20 runners turned up to Aubrey Crescent on an overcast and very muggy evening. Bronco held off setting the run for as long as possible just in case the rain decided to fall. Alas at 5.30pm it still hadn't rained so off he went with his chalk.

The eager hashletes set off at 6.32pm praying for no hills and no rain. Needless to say, none of their prayers were answered. The heavens opened while the hare and the runners were out so a drenching was had by all – all except the lazy bastards who didn't bother going and the wussy hashers who turned back because they thought they might dissolve if they got wet. Those who did the run were ecstatic that Bronco had included some on-backs, false trails and all checks. Alky's disgust was evident when the check in front of the new brewery was not a drink stop as it is closed Monday nights.

New runner Nathan looked promising as he completed the whole run with Hot Property. He is truly a talented athlete as he even had time for a bit hand-holding and other shenanigans (????) whilst on the run. As for the hand-holding, well he wasn't alone there. Witnessed by many was the surreptitious fondling that Metro gave Darcy even without the benefit of his horn.

It was certainly very cosy in the rumpus room downstairs with most people (thankfully) having had a shower in the last few days. Chips, popcorn, cheeses, dips and chicken wings were dished up for starters followed by ham and salad rolls. Mince tarts were the dessert of choice by many.

For the first circle by the new committee, Darcy called the group to order. Yes, some people were unsure if they heard correctly last week at the AGPU that Quickie was the new RA but anyway, his arse did a good job for the most part, keeping control of the circle. He did manage, however, to further deafen Flaps when calling for reverence and Thor no longer has to listen to Darcy bitch and moan at home because she copped a yelling in the ear as well. Both Flaps and Thor quickly moved away from the RA to diminish any further damage to their hearing. The 21 downs that he poured was a bit of a worry but he managed to dish them all out by the time the circle closed. Well, all but the one that Luckless managed to slip back onto the bench and walk quietly away from.

DOWNES and CHARGES

Where do we start????? The charges came fast and furious and there were far too many to mention. The most notable down was for METRO. He only had 1 job – the Hash Horn – and yes, he left it at home so was awarded SHIT OF THE WEEK.

BRONCO – had a down for being the Hare

NATHAN – new runner

AWARDS

Again, where do we start? Again, too many to mention but Hairy had a great time handing out her huge stash of awards to some of our well deserving hashers – revenge is sweet!!

DARCY, much to everyone's surprise (not!) cleaned up in the awards ceremony. He got the wooden Double Dick Award, the Leadfoot Award, The Big Prick and a Bullshit Bag among others. At one stage he had so many awards he was having trouble holding them, his staff and the downs.

The Salt 'n ' Pepper Dicks reappeared thanks to Flaps who decided to clean his bags out before JFI's return next week. These went to the hand-holding couple – nooo not Metro and Darcy!

THUNDER BOX needs some counselling about how to behave in the circle though. He doesn't quite understand that you don't ASK for awards, they are given out as punishments. However, Hairy's spotted pig AKA Kevin (as in Bacon) provided him some amusement for the remainder of the circle.
