Quickie's Notes from last night….enjoy…

Nine hearty souls turned up for the last Run of 2021, even with the sky looking somewhat threatening....

Quickie set a Run which, while not actually Run, was vividly "visualised" by the Athletes while sitting comfortably out of the rain, having a drink or two with nibbles, not Bedpan's other half, but things one eats while guzzling liquid refreshments.

As all the Athletes were now fully immersed in the "feel" of the wet Run, the Hare was chastened for daring to have a hill or three in the Run, mixed in with just a little bit of shiggy.

The Circle was commenced prior to the Nosh being served, with the Shit of the Week being presented to Thunderbox for no good reason at all, except that the threatened Thunder hadn't performed either.....

Quickie got a Down for being Hare.

Quickette got a Down for the Nosh.

Handy got a Down for looking at the RA with a face that was almost saying "what the fuck you gonna give ME a Down for?"

Boltarse got a Down for taking too many good photos...

ADD got a Down for bringing too much chocolate to Hash....Everyone has too much chocolate at Christmas...

Dangles got a Down for bringing ADD...

Alky got a Down for balancing the Books, even with having just bought a new Izuku Uterus with a Slide On Camper which somehow escaped & is now sitting on blocks of timber in Alky's front Lawn...

Pharlap got a Down for smiling while drinking medicine, Billy's Shadow, with Alky his Mentor at the same table...

AWARDS

Thunderbox presented ADD with Kevin Bacon 🐖 the squeezable Pig for correctly naming films said Actor had starred...

GB   not a lot this time of year...

PB nothing anyone wished to recall this time of year...
